DAYTON DRAMATIC CLUB TO GIVE MUSICAL COMEDY

The newly organized Dayton Dramatic Club will present "Rose-time," (a musical comedy) on October 19th, at the Rhea High School auditorium. They hope to stage the popular comedy at Spring City the following night.

The cast of Rosetime consists of eleven unique characters, each presenting wit and song of his own variety. There will also be a chorus of eight girls and boys who sing and do novelty drills. The chorus will be unusually attractive, a continuous parade of pretty costumes and wise cracks.

In addition to the above cast there will be a parade of "Movie Stars." Fifteen Dayton men and women will in dress and action portray their favorite movie star as they pass in review before the audience.

The play is a Sewel production under the direction of a coach assigned by that company.

The Dayton Dramatic Club is a new organization in Dayton. It was organized for the purpose of promoting local dramatics. The proceeds from "Rose time," and one or two other plays to be given during the winter, will be used to stage a pageant and Strawberry Festival next spring. The cooperation of all the city school, Rhea High and Bryan University will be asked in staging the pageant, the first of its kind to be staged in this section.

The Dramatic Club is under the direction of G. Harold Tadlock, a student of Bryan University, who has graciously agreed to lead the organization during its infancy.

Applications for admission to the club should be handed to Mr. Tadlock.

BRYAN DEBATERS ORGANIZE

A group of our prospective debaters met at 12:15 Monday and organized a debating society. The following officers were elected: G. Harold Tadlock, president; Roland McIlroy, vice-president; William Dougherty, Parliamentarian, and Thelma Lee, secretary and treasurer.

Prof. Burns will be the faculty advisor for the society.

The purpose of the organization will be to promote the age old art at Bryan and to give all prospects an opportunity to pass in review before Dr. Burns as he selects from their number a debating team to represent Bryan in intercollegiate debates during the coming season.

The group will have the first debate of the season next Tuesday evening at seven o'clock when Mr. Dougherty and Mr. Fish clash (we're hoping it will be a collision) with Mr. Bently and Mr. Bruce. We've heard a rumor that it's something about railroads.

BRYAN UNIVERSITY TO PUBLISH ANNUAL

The class of '34, first senior class of Bryan University, will sponsor the second annual of the school. As freshmen this class sponsored the only other annual ever published at Bryan.

Prospective ways of raising money are being considered and the drive for funds will soon start.

The Annual Staff consists of the following: Editor-in-chief, G. Harold Tadlock; associate editors, Mrs. A. M. Morgan and Franklin Bennett; business manager, Logan Rector; assistant business manager, Harriett Dunlap; art editor, Marjorie Yancey. Prof. D. W. Ryther was unanimously elected faculty advisor.

Several members of the staff are to be chosen.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

On September 28th members of the George E. Quille Ministerial Association held their annual election. The following officers were elected.

President, Franklin H. Bennett; vice-president, Lloyd Fish; secretary, Mary Lois Hodges; faculty advisor, Dr. Currens.

The purpose of this organization is to aid in the training and service of the ministerial students of the University. Plans are being considered for special work in Homiletics and Pastoral Theology. The executive committee expects to place each of the members in some form of Christian work during the school year.

Dayton Churches are taking advantage of the possibilities for service of these young ministers. Mr. Bennett and Mr. Fish have been called to serve the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Mr. Scott, Mr. McIlroy, Mr. Dougherty and Miss Hodges have already responded to active service in the Bible School and Young People's work of the churches in the city.

A survey of the activities of this group of Christian workers shows that a total of a hundred and three conversions have resulted from their efforts since school closed last Spring. Attendance at several conventions and Bible conferences has been the privilege of most of the group this summer.

THE EUTERPE GLEE CLUB

The Euterpe Glee Club met and organized Friday night, September 29, electing Miss Mona Finnel, president; Miss Thelma Lee, vice-president; Miss Marjorie Yancey, secretary and treasurer. The meetings will be held on Friday evening. Later in the year the club plans to appear in concert.

Around twenty-five students were present at the first meeting; there are several vacancies that may be filled by students of Bryan University.

NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Professor Roy McMurray, a new teacher at Bryan, comes to us as an associate in Mathematics and Science. He spent over three years at the University of Chattanooga and received his A. B. and A. M. at the University of Tennessee, being probably one of the most native members that has ever been on the faculty at Bryan. Besides his College days in East Tennessee, he has had one summer course at the University of Chicago and two years at the University of Kansas.

In his teaching experience Prof. McMurray has spent eight years, at Carson Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn.; two years at Highland College, Highland, Kansas, and two years at Arkansas Polytechnic College, Russellville, Arkansas.

Mrs. McMurray is helping her husband shepherd the boys in the Octagon.

Dr. Burns

Dr. Earl T. Burns is the newest addition to the faculty of Bryan University, greeting his first classes in Greek, Latin, and education the first of the week. Judging by his beginning in Greek 101, it seems as if Dr. Burns "really means business," but in a friendly sort of way.

Dr. Burns received his A. B. and M. A. from Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri. He was a fellow at Princeton, where he received a second M. A., latter attending the University of Penn., where he was given a Ph. D.

Dr. Burns has taught in St. Louis schools; Drury College, Springfield, Missouri; University of Missouri; Northwestern Military Academy, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, and in New York University.

The Echo Staff feel that we are honored in having a man of Dr. Burns' ability to be with us this year and extend to him a hearty welcome. We hope that

DEAN QUIGLEY RESIGNS

Dr. Samuel Quigley, the well-known educator who has so skillfully and conscientiously guided the destinies of Bryan University during the past year, tendered his resignation from the office of Dean, to the Board of Trustees on September 12, to become effective immediately. In the fact that he has recently placed in the hands of the publishers his educational text, "The Integration of Teaching," lies the reason for the action of Dr. Quigley, who now will give his time and energy to the production and placement of the text.

"I am writing to thank you and the faculty," wrote Dr. Quigley to President Lockhart, "... for the fine courtesy of the resolutions adopted and sent to me last Tuesday.

"This action not only seals the fine friendship that has grown up during this year of co-operative effort in a great cause; but it gives me a valuable testimonial that may prove to be of great practical consequence to me during the next few weeks and months.

"My prayers, with a heart in them, are for you and the faculty, and for Bryan, always."

The "Echo" joins with the faculty and students in wishing for Dr. and Mrs. Quigley great happiness and success in their present work.

Until the election of a new dean takes place the office is being held by Vice-President Rudd, the academic work of the dean being in the hands of Professor Ryther. It is expected that the Board will deliberate for some time before making any definite attempt to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Quigley's resignation.

DR. REID SPEAKS AT OPENING EXERCISES

Dr. W. T. Reid, for 21 years a Methodist missionary in Korea, and now considered as one of the foremost authorities on the Jews in the United States, was the principal speaker at the first chapel exercise on Sept. 20.

Dr. Reid was introduced by President Lockhart. Then following his chosen line of thought, he discussed the past history of the Jewish nation, their position in the world today and the prospects of their being enlightened and put in their just place by the return of the Lord Jesus Christ.

In his comments Dr. Reid brought out the fact that God only counts time in relation to his chosen race, Israel, and not to his bride, the church. He explained how the fig tree representing Israel is now putting forth leaves, that the stones and dust of Palestine are being honored now in ful-

COLLEGE SPIRIT

We are often asked, "What is College Spirit?" In order to define College Spirit we must first decide why we go to college at all.

A summons, or we might say a specific call, has brought us here, a call to delve into and obtain a deeper, more appreciative and helpful understanding of the world about us. In this we are not merely here to engage in four years (or more as the case may be) of general association, but to engage in a sterner and more challenging task. We are engaged in a period of fixed, uncompromising employment—a period in which we must learn to live with and understand our fellowmen.

This is certain, eventually, to bring about the ordinary social relationship. But during this evolution does not something finer, deeper, more inspiring grasp us: the friendship of new found delight, of visions, of thoughts; the friendship of the spirit.

And then, there is the development of a kindly unity, an appreciative understanding, a sentiment quite unique; unlike, as it would appear, to anything else in all the experience of men.

College spirit then, is college unity, never failing appreciation, loyalty to the institution of which we are part.

BRYAN FOREVER

Hail to the matchless of the land
 Steadfast and fighting for the right.
 Hail to the Lions of Bryan U.

Cheer for the
 Lions of Bryan
 Coming from over all the land,
 With pep and vigor for the fight.
 Hail to the Lions of Bryan U.

Lions of Bryan,
 Hail to our colors red and gold.
 Hold fast and fight the game thru.
 Hail to the Lions of Bryan U.

Cheer for the
 Lions of Bryan,
 Fighting for victory strong and bold.
 Come on and win that's what we will do.
 Hail to the Lions of Bryan U.

ART EXHIBIT

A display of original paintings is being prepared for the Gift Shop. In this art display will be a number of painting by Miss Emily McMurray, daughter of Professor and Mrs. McMurray of Bryan University.

TO THE STUDENTS OF BRYAN UNIVERSITY

As you are beginning another year of opportunity and responsibility, the prayer of the Faculty is that the year may be one of mutual benefit, and that each will do his or her part in making the year successful. In applying yourself to the solution of the many problems ahead of you, remember the following facts:

Other students here and elsewhere are faced with the same personal, moral, and financial problems as you. As difficult as they seem, previous generations of students have solved problems just as difficult. Your ability in the future will be measured by the difficulty of the obstacles that you overcome. Rejoice that you have the opportunity of showing the mettle of which you are made.

Your parents and friends are praying for God's richest blessings upon you day by day. Accept the experiences that come to you as God's will for you in answer to their prayers and be thankful for them.

Do your best to make the atmosphere at Bryan completely Christian and deeply spiritual. Use gratefully and to your greatest good such material facilities as Bryan affords for your use; they are better than the average school possessed during the previous generation and compare favorably with the material facilities of many of the larger schools of today. Subscribers have been making tremendous sacrifices in order to fulfil their obligations and help in this time of depression. Make Bryan a fitting Memorial to the many consecrated Christian subscribers as well as a Memorial to Mr. Bryan. The living, enduring Memorial is not made with hands. You are a part of it.

You are forming habits for life. Be sure they are useful habits of prayer, study, and recreation. Be an example. Contribute to every phase of university life. Don't be a sponge.—Mr. Rudd.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

At the call of Roland McInay, last year's freshman pilot, the class of '36 met and chose the sturdy trio, Pete Stegall, Lloyd Wilson and Prof. McMurray for the offices of President, vice-president and faculty advisor.

Hoping to blend brains with beauty the sophomores selected Miss Helen Limberg as their secretary and treasurer.

READY FOR THE "LAST LONG MILE"

The seniors met last week for class organization and to make plans for the year's activities. The following officers were elected: Sybil Lusk, president; Logan Rector, vice-president; Mona Flerl, secretary and treasurer and Harriett Dunlap, historian.

Professor Ryther was chosen class sponsor, and with his help and guidance the class expects to accomplish much.

The Seniors are making arrangements for a play to be given soon.

JUNIOR CLASS ORGANIZES

In line with tradition and custom, the Bryan Juniors met last week to elect class officers. They chose to be bossed by the ladies.

Their officers are: president, Virginia Kohout; vice-president, Naomi Jewell; secretary and treasurer, Mary Lois Hodges. Miss Julia Anna Yancey will serve as faculty advisor.

Mr. W. L. Colvin, the only male candidate in the election was appointed class historian by a narrow margin. We wish you luck, ladies. To Colvin we extend our sympathy.

RAH! RAH! FRESHMEN!

The fresh young life of Bryan University is represented by the following students: Cleneyria Lee, Dorothy Hair, Dorothy Moon, Gertrude Brimer, Nancy Clouse, Ruth Peters, Zola Spence, Courtland Byron, Edgerton Reid, Henry Gray, James Moon, John de Rosset, Ralph Tolliver, and William Wonderly. Five states, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Tennessee, are represented by this assembly of yearlings.

The officers of the class are as follows: Edgerton H. Reid, president; John de Rosset, vice-president; Dorothy Hair, secretary and treasurer; Terrence Bently, chaplain; James Moon, Sergeant at arms, and William Wonderly, Parliamentarian.

As the sap is to the tree, so are the freshmen to the University. May the sap continually flow and the tree blossom forth in beauty.

Women's faults are many;
 Men have only two:
 Everything they say
 And everything they do.

Don't forget the Matinee.

GIFT SHOP OPENS

The Bryan University Gift Shop is now open. It will be under the management of G. Harold Tadlock. To the full line of souvenirs, gifts, and school supplies. Mr. Tadlock is preparing to add a dainty lunch and tea room service.

Prices are reasonable at the Gift Shop. A share of your patronage is solicited.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS

With five wearers of the coveted "B" returning from last year's "Lady Lions" and three returning from the men's squad, prospects look somewhat brighter for the coming season than they have for any previous season in the brief history of Bryan University.

For the past three seasons the difficulty has been found in lack of material, but the difficulty of 1934 seems to be, not lack of material, but lack of a floor.

In order to make the gymnasium self supporting, the County Court has seen fit to fix a flat charge of two and a half dollars per night for the use of the high school floor—unfortunately the only floor available to the Bryan Squads. An appeal to the Court resulted in having the matter referred to the Board of Education for consideration at their next meeting. It is to be hoped that the board will be able to work out some plan more favorable to the university.

Practice will begin early in November. A schedule of games will be published in a later issue of the Echo.

The following wearers of the "B" have returned: Mona Finnell, Naomi Jewell, Thelma Lee, Mary Lee Phillips, Madge Smith, John Hair, S. D. Hodges and Roland McInay.

13 STATES REPRESENTED AT BRYAN

Here we are! Look at us! We come from East, West, North and South. Pennsylvania ranks first with five students. California and Kentucky tie for second place with two each. New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Mississippi and Iowa are also represented, and of course, we have some Tennesseans.

We are expecting at least two more states to be represented in the next two weeks.

LOCKHART CLASS ENTERTAINS

The student body and faculty of Bryan U. was very delightfully entertained by the Lockhart class of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church last Saturday evening. At the close of the evening delicious refreshments were served.

Prizes were awarded the Misses Juanita Pendergrass and Helen Limberg, Franklin Bennett, W. T. Margraves and Lloyd E. Fish.

GUARDIANS OF THE NIGHT

Smokestacks, like giants in the night,
Lifting their dark heads against the sky
In grim array;
Grave sentinels of the starry night;
Deserted now, and left to guard the town
In hours of gloom.
Like cavalrymen outside the city wall
Watching yonder distant hill and mountain heights,
While townsmen sleep.

—Wm. Wonderly

THE BETA PHI

The Beta Phi of Cedar Hill met Thursday, September 22, for their first meeting of the year. Miss Thelma Lee was elected president, Miss Helen Limberg, vice-president; Miss Ruby Brimer, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Marjorie Yancey, chairman of the program committee.

The purpose of the organization is to get the girls better acquainted and to make for a happier family group. Several new members were initiated into the Beta Phi, they are: Misses Cleneyria Lee, Ruth Peters, Gertrude Brimer, Dorothy Hair and Emily McMurray. A constitution is being prepared by a committee and when it is finished will be submitted to Mrs. Rudd for approval.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

The Freshmen girls obeying the upperclass girls' commands.

Emily McMurray not chewing gum.

Mary Lois telling anything other than a "fish tale."

Ruth Peters and Cleneyria Lee having a serious thought.

"Shorty" not at the post office when the mail train comes in.

Wanted: A stenographer to take down all the wise cracks made by Jumbo.

When Jumbo sees you deep in woe
She walks right up with "cherio"
She brings her hand down with a whack
And slaps you hard upon the back.
It makes no matter how you felt
Woe fades away beneath her pelt.

REV. THORNTON GIVES CHAPEL ADDRESS

The Rev. Jesse B. Thornton, father of a well-known former student, David Thornton, and one of Bryan's old friends, is now visiting in Dayton, alone with Mrs. Thornton, their daughter, Lydia, and Dave.

Mr. Thornton spoke at the chapel period Friday answering the age-old question of, "Why did God Create this Earth?" He read from Hebrews 9:26. "The thoughts of the ordinary, intelligent man," he said, "go something like this when he thinks of God: 'If there is a God, why, I am too little, time is too little, this planet is too little, for God to consider them.'" "But," Mr. Thornton continued, "this planet was created on the grounds of redemption—that Christ might appear and put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. * * * the sin question is far greater than the creation question, as sin existed before the world was."

The answering of this question was opportune, and we feel that it was helpful for every student of Bryan.

The Rev. Thornton, for four years a missionary to India and for eighteen years a missionary to Japan, is now pastor of the Hope Congregational Church, in St. Louis, Missouri.

Mrs. Austin: What do you work at, my poor man?

Tramp: At intervals, ma'am.

CEDAR HILL NEWS

These are the girls who hailed back to Cedar Hill: "Hollywood" Finnell, "Phil" Phillips, Agnes Copeland, "Jumbo" Pendergrass, "Shadow" Hodges, Ruby Brimer, "Smitty" Smith and "Shorty" Yancey. The new girls won't have such a hard time learning the ropes with so many of the old gang to coach them.

Cedar Hill is fortunate it contains fifteen girls this year. Several states are represented and there are signs of much talent to be developed for the betterment of B. M. U.

Last week when Ralph Toliver was distributing papers at Cedar Hill, a girl called out: "A man in the House!" and all the freshmen girls stuck their heads out of their doors.

We are glad to welcome Mr. Montoya and Dr. Burns to Cedar Hill as faculty inmates.

Cleneyria Lee and Ruth Peters went to Pikeville to spend the week-end with their parents and friends.

"Jumbo" Pendergrass spent the week-end at Crossville.

Boys! Stop and take notice! The Cedar Hill Parlors are open to you on Sunday afternoons from 4 to 6. Be sure to make use of them.

TO OUR HOSTESS

All of Life's successes, some one has said, are the fruits of inspiration, or the incentive to untiring effort.

When the students that now gather in the dining hall at Cedar Hill leave behind their days of enjoyment to become an august group of business men and women, they will owe any measure of success they may have attained to the brilliant inspiration, the unceasing interest, the sacrifice and loyalty, the friendly attitude of our Hostess—Mrs. Austin.

PHI KAPPA ENTERTAINS

It may have been just a coincidence, but when the members of the Phi Kappa literary society and their faculty guests arrived at Bryan Hill last Monday evening for their "party," everything needful was already waiting. Yes, quite everything—a campfire, a grassy spot, weiners, rolls, kraut—even a moon, half hidden by fleecy clouds.

Not a thing had been left to chance. When the pairs—oddly enough, there did seem to be some pairs—arrived, they were quickly shepherded into a circle by Miss Helen Limberg and game followed game with much amusement to all till finally someone asked that immemorial question, "When do we eat?"

You would never believe that wieners, rolls, apples and marshmallows could disappear so quickly, but they did! Professors Rudd and Ryther seemed especially to enjoy this part of the evening.

As soon as the excitement had abated, some good warbler started a song—and is music by the moonlight enjoyable!

Ask some of the boys about the walk home—it is great to walk down Bryan Hill in the moonlight—but oh! that journey back!

SIGMA TAU LITERARY SOCIETY

Playing the role of tortoise in the famous mythical old race—the old members of the Sigma Tau Society got off with a very slow start until Monday night when the gang gathered in the English room of the Academic building and the starting signal was given, "Here We Go!"—Stop us if you can!

All things set, we boarded the Old Tee Wee Chee and launched into the deep. Thelma Baker was elected Captain of the unruly crew with Amy Cartright and Madge Smith as her assistants.

It was on that memorable Monday night when that bunch of raving hyenas gathered to plan a year's voyage on the Great sea of Intellectual Development.

Some pirates argued that the entire crew and inmates of the ship were of a poor sort. Humph! Hunt the whole world over and you will not find a more refined group of hyenas anywhere. Do we not have scientists, teachers, preachers, statesmen, physicians, politicians, and musicians in our ranks? Surely we have.

The crew opened fire upon the pirates with a big Weiner roast given at Cumberland Springs, asking all the new students to come out on deck. Among the familiar faces we found one belonging to none other than Dr. Burns, who, with his many tales of the sea, caused laughter to ring from every side of the boat.

After all had joined in singing many songs, our stern master, Mr. Montoya blew the shrill whistle, and everyone was seen hurrying to his stateroom. The Tee Wee Chee headed for Port.
